The Mystery of a Stein-Bloch Fitting

It is that to us. We have seen men come to our mirrors with an incredulous smile and look at themselves for the first time in their lives dressed in STEIN-BLOCH ready-for-service clothes.

The smile we have seen fade away to a look of surprise. They saw style in that reflection of themselves--style and a fit that meant business.

You can be fitted in just that way. You will never believe the price until you see it is true.

Suits $20 to $40.

Overcoats $16.50 to $30.00.

Duford Union Suits for Men $4.

They never irritate.

For bowel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all dealers.

He—Could you marry a man who spends all his money?

She—No, but I could love him while it lasted.—Judge.

Knick-knack—is his fortune made?

Knock—Yes, he has trade-marked a name and now he only has to think of something to match it to.—New York Sun.

How have nothing for a frontispiece this month?

Run a blank page with a Dymec over the top and label it the latest autograph.—Pittsburgh Post.

Mrs. Jack to Poisom, Mrs. Langworthy to her home in Al�ison after a visit with her brother, Judge Bennett; Mrs. Cosgrave to Boulder, Colo., where she will spend the winter with her daughters, and Miss Brownell to her home in Novia Sonoita, after a visit with relatives in Silver City.

CARLSBAD MAN IS TAKEN TO ASYLUM

Several Officers Required to Put Ernest Harrison on Train; Two Deputies Accompany Demented Man.

Ernest Harrison of Carlsbad was brought to this city last night by Deputy Sheriff Tom Cooper, Sr., and Sam Aiken of Eddy county and this morning was taken on to Las Vegas, where he will be confined in the insane asylum.

Upon arrival here the prisoner was taken to the local lock-up for confinement, awaiting the morning train east, and all impedimenta removed that he might rest. Officer Pablo Lujan, as well as several others who assisted in getting him to the train, is convinced of the extreme insanity of the man. When the two deputies and the local officer went to the cell to put on the shackles again and take the prisoner to the train it required their combined strength as well as the help of three onlookers to do the work, the prisoner fighting like the wild man that he is and almost getting away. Bound hand and foot by every imaginable device, even then the prisoner threw himself violently against the officers at every opportunity.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Charged with fighting and resisting an officer, James Sevier, a common offender, and J. H. McCoy were haled before Justice McClellan, acting police judge in the absence of Judge Geo. R. Craig, this morning. Fighting in a First street saloon they were arrested by Officer Martin and Sevier in particular resisted to the extent of tearing the policeman's clothing and maliciously smearing blood over the officer's coat. They pleaded not guilty and the case was carried over this evening in order that the officer might be present.

Hugh McRoy, a one-legged man charged with hogging on the streets, was fined fifteen dollars or fifteen days and will at necessity take the days.

NEW MEXICO PEOPLE CONGRATULATED ON CONSTITUTION

Bishop William A. Quayle Delivers Strong and Interesting Lecture on Temperance in M. E. Church Last Night.

Congratulating the people of New Mexico on their constitution in no mistakable terms, branding the initiative and referendum as mere humbug and the recall as, at least a device working much uncertainty, highly complimenting President Taft, and labeling the liquor traffic the greatest "tare" to the human race, Bishop William A. Quayle quite came up to expectation last night in his temperance lecture delivered to an audience far too small considering the reputation and ability of the speaker and the importance of the subject, in the local Methodist church.

Bishop Quayle is no mere theorist, and as a man who has seen and experienced the things of which he speaks he keeps up a rapid fire of statements, the truth of none of which is open to the least doubt, and all equally important, intermingled now and then with a delightful bit of his keen wit and humor, combining to make a lecture both instructive and entertaining.

The motives of Bishop Quayle in complimenting the people of this state on the constitution as it now stands cannot be questioned. If the constitution were not exactly what it should be Bishop Quayle would not say so and the makers of the constitution may feel highly complimented, as well as the citizenship in general, by Bishop Quayle's remark: "You people of New Mexico are to be congratulated on the constitution that you have made. No people ever had a clearer slate on which to work. Wanting to find out about your constitution, I inquired of a man who had been wise enough to study it before knocking it, asking if there were any clause that might be construed to provide against possible prohibition legislation thus favoring the liquor interests and I received the certain reply, 'No, absolutely none.' Consequently, I say, you temperance people have as open a field as any state ever had in taking up the temperance fight. You can pass temperance laws in the legislature without any restriction and it is really to your benefit that there is none incorporated in the constitution."

ILFELD BUILDING IS A CONSTRUCTION RECORD BREAKER

Superintendent of Construction on Big Office and Warehouse Proves Erection Work Can Be Executed With Some Speed in Albuquerque.

A record for speed in construction of big buildings in New Mexico has been established by the Harlan people in their construction of the Charles H. Hiltz company structure, which covers almost an entire block of ground on North First street, strung between Coopers and Tijeras road. The big building, nearly nearing completion as far as the outside work is concerned, construction work that was done has proved the building to be one of the fastest and most workmanlike jobs in the history of building in New Mexico.

Geo. L. Conrad, superintendent of construction, recently of Chicago, who is totally responsible for its speedy erection, has proven that buildings can be erected as fast in Albuquerque as in Chicago. J. A. Herlan and son, contractors, believe that within the next month the building will be completed and ready for occupancy. The building is entirely fire-proof and handsome in every detail. Concrete construction is being used throughout, while the outside is to be the pretty pink dash.

The floor space will cover one acre more than any building now in the city. It will be three stories and basement, the main floor is to be used for offices and general purposes.
